

Take teaching further

You've been tasked with teaching a course. Thing is, your students are spread right across the world. Plus of course you need to keep them engaged, and make sure they're taking it all in. What's the answer?

Shape minds worldwide with Webex Training

Thanks to Webex Training, you can easily deliver compelling e-learning to attendees wherever you or they are based. All you need is an internet connection. Present live online training sessions, give students access to pre-recorded sessions and HD videos, test their knowledge, and more.

Scheduling made simple

Ready to set up a session? Then simply log into the Webex site, create your invitation email including the date, time and other session info, and send to your attendees. By clicking the link in this email, they can join the session in seconds from any device.

Sessions large and small

Webex Training lets you teach a group of up to 1,000 students in one session. But you can also assign participants to breakout sessions, where they can work together in smaller groups.

Keep track of Q&As

If your students have questions, they can use the threaded Q&A space to put them directly to session panelists. A panelist will then add their answer to the thread, or assign the question to a colleague.

Knowledge testing, built in

To check your students' understanding, you can set them a test or exam within the app itself and even have the answers graded automatically. Result!
